

Water infrastructure,

made easier to understand.

Project framing

A fictional water-operations brand created to demonstrate editorial layout, visual systems, information design and stakeholder communication.

Clear
Consistent

Reduce cognitive load.
Reuse visual patterns.

Useful

Surface the next action.

Consistent

Reuse visual patterns.

Visual language

#123B72
#28A9D6

#7DD3FC
Type hierarchy

#F97360
AQUA / FLOW / IMPACT

#F6F8FB
Editorial headlines + compact operational labels + calm body copy

Narrative structure

“

Context
Why it matters
System

How it works
Signal
What needs attention

Service overview

SOURCE

TREAT

DELIVER

A simplified service map: source → treatment → delivery. The model is generic and contains no real client process.

System map

FLOW
14.8 ML/d

QUALITY

98.6%

ALERTS

Fictional 24-hour flow trend

Operational snapshot

WHAT CHANGED?
Flow

Pressure

Quality

Demand

Data storytelling

“

Normal
Within target range
Watch

Movement detected
Action
Needs investigation

Interface cards

Water
Sustainability
Energy
System

Icon family

SECTION 1
Context and purpose

SECTION 2
SECTION 4

Key operational signal
Recommended next step

SECTION 3

Supporting evidence

SECTION 4

Recommended next step

Information blocks

One system, many formats
Report

Dashboard

Mobile

Presentation

Responsive thinking

“

Accessibility cues
Colour never carries meaning alone
Labels use plain language

Contrast is kept high
Status has text + icon
Layout supports scanning

Accessibility cues

BEFORE

Mixed emphasis and competing signals

AFTER

Clear hierarchy and purposeful status cues

Before → after

Portfolio-safe skill proof
Editorial layout

Brand identity
Icon design
a public portfolio.

Information architecture
Presentation design

Data visualisation
Responsive composition

UI cards & states
Fictional names, invented metrics, custom vectors and a new colour
system keep the project suitable for

Icon design

Presentation design

Responsive composition

Portfolio takeaway

